WE NOMINATE

James Ley McCord, a rising power in the Presbyterian Church and widely known for his contributions to the outreaching work of the National Council of Churches, who this month rounds out his first year as president of Princeton Theological Seminary, his denomination's oldest and largest seminary in this country. Called here last July 1st, this 40-year old churchman-educator was cited this week by Princeton University, as it conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, for his "serious concern that the best deeds of the spirit and the mightiest acts of the intellect shall increasingly inform the life of this nation."

Deeply conscious of the Seminary's mission, endowed by its founders in 1811 with the responsibility of raising up "a succession of men at once qualified for, and thoroughly devoted to, the work of the Gospel ministry," McCord, a native of Rusk, Texas, has succeeded in compressing a near-incredible number of assignments into the past 15 years. While serving as Dean and Professor of Systematic Theology in the Austin (Texas) Presbyterian Theological Seminary, he was welcomed by institutions on three continents, represented his church in international conferences and made a steady stream of contributions to professional publications.

Indicative of the breadth of his interests is a random check-list of his extra-curricular undertakings over the past decade. He has been a member of the Presbyterian General Assembly's Committee on World Missions and has worked with Assembly Committees on Worship; Motivation and Strategy for Missions; and Marriage, Divorce and Remarriage. He lectured and traveled extensively in a half-dozen different nations and during the summer of 1956 was Visiting Professor in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of the South in Campinas, Brazil.

At a time in its history when it is thinking in terms of its ongoing development, and is pondering a master plan that will carry part of its operations "far out" into the Township, the Seminary is drawing added strength from McCord's educational background. He started out at Austin College, earning his bachelor degree at age 19, and continued his training at Union Theological Seminary (Richmond, Va.), Austin Seminary, the University of Texas, Harvard and New College, University of Edinburgh. His experience includes two years of teaching philosophy at Texas and the distinguished Rogers Fellowship in Philosophy at Harvard.

McCord, chairman of the new Advisory Committee on Faith and Order of the National Council of Churches, radiates the kind of energetic leadership that is the hallmark of a great and growing educational institution. His forthright comments at a recent Township hearing on mapped road-plans, and his expression of interest in the economic problems confronting the Borough, underscore the capacities of educator whose preparation for his present post embraced pastoral duties in Austin, Texas, and Manchester, New Hampshire, as well as eminently scholarly lectures on such topics as "The New Humanity", "Studies in The Epistle to the Hebrews" and "Contemporary Eschatology."

For meriting recognition by a sister institution "in the bright forenoon of his presidency;" for sensing the significance of "furnishing our congregations" with men who are both enlightened and zealous; for balancing religion and learning in the belief that one without the other is often an empty thing; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

NEW ROADS FOR OLD

Township Releases Report. When the Township Planning Board released its report on new streets and opened the doors of Township Hall Thursday night for a public hearing, the whole matter was an old story to many residents of Princeton because the Township has kept property owners informed of every step along the road.

The road committee—which had to struggle with, among other things, its title of Subcommittee on Engineering and Public Safety of the Citizens' Advisory Committee to the Princeton Township Planning Board—decided when it was reconstituted as an active working group on January 9, 1960, that extensive public participation would be its first item of business.

As the road plan was pin-pointed, area by area, property owners were invited to Township Hall on Saturday mornings to discuss, object and compromise. The result is that the detailed road plan, while not wholly acceptable to every property owner in the Township, has nevertheless received a much wider acceptance than it might have, had there been no informal conferences.

What's New? In addition to the existing arterial roads (Route 206, Route 27, Washington Road from U.S. 1 north), the Plan proposes one new major artery which would start from U.S. 1 and Washington Road, continue on a new Loop Road, follow it north to a junction with Harrison, then proceed along Harrison Street North to Mt. Lucas Road. At this point, one of two alternate roads would lead to a junction with Route 206.

The Loop Road is the basic feature of the circulation street plan proposed for the Township. It would describe a loop around the Borough, providing direct access to all Township neighborhoods without a long-cut across the Borough.

As planned by the committee on roads, it would go from Township Hall along Terhune to River Road, south along the eastern shore of Lake Carnegie to Harrison, Washington Road and Alexander Street. From there, it would proceed, along alternate routes not yet chosen, across Princeton Pike and the Lincoln Highway to Rosedale Road, passing Johnson Park School to the Great Road, then along a new alignment back to Township Hall.

Other circulation roads would:

- Link Terhune (near Trinity Church), Mt. Lucas, Route 206, Cherry Hill, the Great Road's new alignment and Province Line;
- Run north from a junction of Bayard Lane and 206, crossing the road mentioned above and Ridgeview Road and running into Mount Rose Road.
- Start at the intersection of Mt. Lucas and Poor Farm Roads and go west across 206 to Arreton, along Arreton Road Extended to a junction of Cherry Hill and Ridgeview.

The Plan also suggests, for safety, the realignment of both The Great Road and Cherry Hill Road. In addition, Mountain Avenue, Bayard Lane and Route 206 would be redrawn and the Herrontown-Poor Farm Road intersection realigned.

The picturesque—and deadly—bridge across the Stony Brook at Mercer Road, would be left in place—and abandoned. Instead, the Quaker-Mercer intersection would be realigned and a new bridge built downstream. On Alexander Street, the present Stony Brook bridge would become one-way, the deep-knee bend would be straightened out and a second bridge constructed going the other way.

One Road Erased. At the public hearing, the chief objection to the road plan came from Princeton Theological Seminary which plans to built 150 units on the northern part of 92 acres it owns on The Great Road at Mountain Avenue. As originally drawn, one spur road bisected this property, but the road committee, recognizing the Seminary's case, has removed the road altogether.

The Seminary hopes to build, for occupancy in the fall of 1961, living quarters for students, communal study halls, a nursery school and other facilities for a self-contained campus.

Bryce Maxwell, 19 McCosh Circle, protested the plans for Harrison Street because he said that Harrison, widened and improved, would become in effect a 206-A bypass and thereby cause the state highway department to shrug off any ideas for a by-pass of its own.

Ricardo Mestres, representing Princeton University, pointed out that state highway planners see the by-pass in a much larger context and would not be influenced by such a small portion of road as Harrison Street.

To other remarks about the possibility of increased truck traffic on those improved roads, Planning Board member Gerald Breese said that, except for the southern part of the Loop from Princeton Pike to Kingston, there would be no heavy Loop truck traffic.

Hans K. Sander, chairman of the road committee, commented that, in the absence of any commitment from the state on 206-A, the Township must supplant that dream road with real ones, and Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman said that the real 206-A solution may lie, not with the highway department, but in cooperative work with Somerset and Middlesex counties to develop a road network north of Princeton Township.

As to "which comes first?" in this road list for the future, Planning Board Chairman Samuel Frothingham told the public hearing, "The future must decide. We cannot assign priorities now—we must wait and see, as the Township grows and develops, which areas need roads first."

ROUND-UP

Below average temperature last week (Saturday morning's pre-dawn 44 was a near record) helped keep the first two weeks of June well under normal, while rainfall for the first half of the month is also short of average precipitation. . .the Junior Chamber of Commerce reported 500 ballots were cast for the best paintings in last weekend's community art exhibit, with the public naming "Old Man of the Mountain" by Mrs. Mary E. Johnston of Belle Mead as its favorite.

The Princeton Fire Department will hold its annual parade and inspection Friday, June 24, the line of march to lead down Nassau to Olden Avenue and then William Street, where Borough Council will review the men and equipment. . .if final details proceed on schedule, the new pool built by the Broadmead Swimming Club just south of Princeton Country Day School will open next week.

Police reported these reunion weekend incidents: three cars rifled of various articles, including a collection of phonograph records valued at more than $400 —total loss in excess of $1250. . . a small foreign car parked on College Road Saturday was damaged when passers-by pushed it over the embankment on Brokaw Field. . .police ticketed Curtis J. Harrison, 61, of New York for driving on the sidewalk at the corner of Nassau and Vandeventer and were in turn told by the defendant that he had mistaken the Garden Theatre for a service station.

Anthony Carnevale, 103 Linden Lane, had his car stolen from Chambers Street last Friday, got it back two days later after it had been located undamaged in Hamilton Square. . .the Class of 1930, with reunion headquarters at Miss Fine's School, had its 20-foot orange and black banner stolen, so far no return.

Ten Years Ago: June 15, 1950. An 18-month battle over the installation of parking meters (with many merchants and residents objecting) came to a quiet conclusion with unprotested passage by Borough Council of an ordinance approving the installation of 423 of the coin-swallowing machines. . .they were scheduled to go into operation September 1.

In Princeton Township, the governing body gave final approval to blueprints submitted by Clearview Associates for a multi-million dollar shopping center. . . Princeton Hospital announced a second $100,000 gift by Gerard B. Lambert to its $1,200,000 building fund, while the Rotary Club and Westminster Choir College made plans for joint sponsorship of two concerts in McCarter Theatre to aid the campaign.

President Harold W. Dodds, surprising his doctors by quick and complete recovery from an operation, attended the University's 203d commencement exercises. . .among the recipients of a bachelor of arts degree in psychology was Archibald M. Crossley of 21 Battle Road, who completed an interrupted academic career 33 years after he had been an undergraduate by "returning to the campus" to win his diploma with high honors.

Miss Fine's School bestowed an honorary diploma on Miss Elinor K. Purves, the school's first graduate to attend college, in recognition of her distinguished career in social service work. . . Princeton High School ran its consecutive dual track meet victories to 23, kept its county and Central Jersey titles thanks to such performers as Tom Perks, Charlie Cottrell, Joe Stonaker, Dennis Beecher, Jerry Spacek, Vic Rosner, Leon Green, Clyde Thomas, Chase Rosner, Harry Kahny, Dick Hogarty, Lorenzo Fletcher, John Muller.

907 DEGREES CONFERRED

At University Commencement. President Robert F. Goheen conferred 907 bachelor and advanced degrees Tuesday at Princeton University's 213th commencement. Seven different degrees in courses were awarded, ranging from bachelor degrees in arts, science and engineering to masters of public affairs in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, and doctorates of philosophy.

Among the recipients were 582 bachelors of arts, 96 bachelors of science in engineering, 35 masters of science in engineering, 21 masters of public affairs, 85 masters of arts, 26 masters of fine arts, and 62 doctors of philosophy.

Honorary Degrees Given 12. Among the 11 men and one woman who were awarded honorary degrees were Laurence P. Roberts, a member of Princeton's class of 1929 and a former director of the American Academy in Rome; Sinclair Hamilton, lawyer and bibliophile, and a member of the class of 1906; James S. McDonnell Jr., president of McDonnell Aircraft Corporation and a graduate with the class of 1921, and John C. Cooper, a pioneer in air law and a Princeton graduate in 1909.

Also, John B. Coburn, a member of the class of 1938 and dean of Episcopal Theological School; James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary; Supachai Vanij-Vadhana, a 1929 Princeton graduate and secretary-general of Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok, Thailand; David K. E. Bruce, a member of the class of 1919, and former ambassador to the Federal Republic of Germany; James H. Douglas Jr., U.S. Deputy Secretary of Defense, and a member of the class of 1926; and Eugene R. Black, a former Princeton resident and president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Ten Area Men Receive AB's. Princeton residents who gained their AB degrees were George G. Cuyler, 32 Edgehill Street; Patrick H. Hutton, 48 Longview Drive; Peter Kenez, 111 Laurel Road; George M. McCabe, Pretty Brook Road; W. Bruce McKinney, The Great Road; Theodore S. Peyton, R.D. 2; and Steven C. Young, 25 Mercer Street. Mr. McKinney was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Kingston graduates were Peter B. Cook of Heathcote Farm, and Frank H. Davis of Red Maple Farm. Daniel M. Sachs, 86 West Broad Street, Hopewell, was also named to Phi Beta Kappa.

REUNION REPORT

One of the quietest, one of the biggest and certainly the reunion blessed with the pleasantest weather in many years was enjoyed last weekend by upwards of 5000 Princeton alumni. In sharp contrast to many a June gathering, the temperature averaged in the '60's, the humidity kept pace and nary a drop of rain fell until most graduates were preparing to return home on Sunday.

Representatives of some 68 University classes were on hand for the occasion—the oldest, William H. Johnson, 94, of Cooperstown, N.Y., only surviving member of the Class of 1888. The gaily-costumed alumni p-rade, winding across the campus and down Prospect Street to University Field, marched to music from a wide variety of bands: military, Hawaiian, fife and drum, jazz and bag pipers. President Goheen's wife, Margaret, in the University Field reviewing stand, got a dixieland serenade, "Peg O' My Heart."

Although police reported the weekend as "unusually quiet" from point of view of routine disturbances, it was twice marred by tragedy. Dudley C. Smith, 67, a member of the Class of 1915, fell down a flight of concrete stairs in Patton Hall, a University dormitory, and died of his injuries. A Montclair resident, he was an admiralty lawyer practicing in New York.

Here to see his son graduate, Walter C. Grieves, 60, of Chatham, suffered a heart attack Monday morning at the Nassau Inn. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Leonard Berry, deputy Mercer County Physician.

A combination of persuasive advance publicity, solid class spirit and national prosperity worked together to bring alumni back in unusually large numbers. The Class of 1935, for example, winning the trophy for largest attendance at a major reunion with 313 men, had 50 more members back than 1934 did a year ago and 80 more than 1933 drew for its 25th.

Other cup winners: 1913, greatest percentage (27.9) for an off-year reunion; 1913, this time in a tie with 1938, greatest number for an off-year reunion—57 apiece; 1910 and 1915, tied for greatest percentage for a major reunion, 62 percent each.

HOSPITAL CLOSES UNIT

Because of Nursing Shortage. A unit consisting of 19 beds has been closed by Princeton Hospital for an indefinite period as a result of the nursing shortage. It was announced this week by John W. Kauffman, hospital administrator.

the nurses just aren't available," Mr. Kauffman said. "Our inability to find enough nurses is typical of the country as a whole."

"There are several reasons for the shortage," Mr. Kauffman said. Many nurses are marrying young and giving up their careers. Others are turning away from bedside nursing to administrative nursing. Also, in the case of Princeton, there is an annual shortage each June when the wives of graduate students and Seminary students leave town.

"Our School of Practical Nursing is Princeton Hospital's effort to combat the shortage," Mr. Kauffman pointed out, "but since the school has only been in operation for six months and we have not yet graduated a class, we cannot expect relief from that source as yet."

He said that many nurses at Princeton Hospital have worked until the day of the arrival of their own babies, and have returned to work as soon as possible. He also said that many nurses have worked two continuous eight-hour shifts so that patient care could continue.

PARKING LOT STUDIED

In Nassau - Vandeventer Area.

An old project for a parking lot behind Nassau Street, serving the western half of the block between Moore and Vandeventer, was revived Tuesday at the Borough Council meeting. The proposed off-street parking area, which caused a furor several years ago, now seems possible but expensive, according to Councilman Dan D. Coyle, reporting for a special committee studying the project.

It appears that the Borough could now acquire land for about 35 spaces and might be able to get enough to bring the total to 55, Mr. Coyle said. But the original land would cost $45,000, while surfacing, razing of buildings and purchase of the square-footage for the additional 20 spots could raise the total to roughly $100,000, he estimated.

Support for the project has also revived in recent weeks. At the Council session, letters from three property owners backing the project were read, one merchant in the area (Leonard La Place of Nassau Interiors) spoke in favor of it, and the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce gave its support both by letter and representative.

Considering the interest expressed, the need for off-street parking in the area as recognized by Borough planners and the cost, Mayor Raymond F. Male observed that the project should be carefully considered with regard to whether it will produce "the greatest return in terms of community service." He revealed that he has asked for figures on the cost of a bond issue to purchase the land.

At the suggestion of Councilman Coyle, his committee will meet with the property owners of the area and a representative of the Chamber of Commerce to study the situation. The session was scheduled for 4 p.m. June 27.

New Bus Route Approved. Also at its Tuesday night session, the Council did its part in approving the proposed Pennington - Princeton bus route of the Hopewell Valley Charter Bus Service. It passed a resolution consenting to the use of the Borough streets, which is required before the company goes to the Public Utilities Commission. Township approval has already been granted.

The proposed service would now run into Princeton via Rosedale Road, Elm Road, Stockton Street, Nassau Street, and Harrison Street, terminating at the Shopping Center, according to a company representative. Four round trips a day are scheduled.

In other business, Council:

- Held a public hearing on and approved the new assessments for the Hamilton Avenue sidewalks.
- Held a public hearing on and passed the building code amendment increasing permit fees.
- Held a public hearing on and tabled the ordinance to vacate the 160' portion of Lafayette Road (only a right-of-way) adjoining Elm Road with final action to be taken at Thursday's special meeting.
- Heard that Princeton Municipal Improvement, Inc., intends to cancel the Borough's lease on the Palmer Square Parking Yard, effective in 90 days.
- Set 8 p.m. next Tuesday for a public hearing on the written objection from Renwick's to the renewal of the recently-granted King's Court liquor license, as required by the Alcoholic Beverage Control regulations.
- Shifted the July meeting date to July 5 from July 12.

—B. A. GOTTWET—

Uncertainty being a part of everyone's future, it was no more than normal that the Class of 1960 should be prepared for it early. Of course, it hardly requires a diploma to realize that the vicissitudes of the weather have a reputation for uncertainty.

The Man seemed inclined to adopt such a mood for the immediate future. Warm, partly cloudy on Thursday; possible showers on Friday, he intoned. The weekend is a question mark—no doubt about its arriving, he admitted, but so could more rain.

With "George Dillon," John Osborne's "Epitaph for George Dillon" will raise the curtain on the summer season of plays scheduled by the University Players for presentation in Murray Theater. "George" will open on June 25 and will be presented again on June 26 and from June 28 to July 3. David Sawyer will direct.

The Players, which will be an Actors Equity group this summer for the first time, will offer Sunday evening performances as the result of last summer's heavy demand for week-end tickets.

Following the Osborne play, the Players will offer Carl Sternheim's "The Underpants" from July 5 through 10. "The Prodigal," by Jack Richardson will be presented during the week of July 12 through 17 and Shaw's "Major Barbara" from July 19 through 24.

Arthur Miller's adaptation of "An Enemy of the People" will play from July 26 through 31. Starting August 2, the Players will give three one-act comedies: "Two Gentlemen of Soho," by A. P. Herbert, "The Lesson," by Eugene Ionesco and "Queens of France" by Thornton Wilder.

The season will conclude with "Six Characters in Search of an Author," the well-known Pirandello work, which will be shown from August 9 through 14, and "Kiss Me, Kate" which will play from August 16 through 21.

MUSIC ADDED TO COMEDY

"Petticoat Fever" for Bucks. The 1935 success, "Petticoat Fever," has been converetd into a musical for a two-week stand at the Bucks County Playhouse beginning Monday. Russell Nype and Carol Bruce will star.

Music for the remake of Mark Reed's play has been supplied by composer - conductor David Baker, who wrote the dance music for Bette Davis' "Two's Company," and lyricist Ira Wallach, who has teamed with Mr. Baker for several New York revues. Christopher Hewett, who has worked both in New York and London, will direct the musical.

According to producer Michael Ellis, the basic story of a wireless operator stranded without women for two years and then deluged by members of the fair sex, has been left unchanged. Ten original songs have been added for the Nype-Bruce duo.

"SUSIE" AT LAMBERTVILLE

Through June 26. The Broadway hit, "The World of Susie Wong," will run at the Lambertville Music Circus through Sunday June 26, under the direction of George Lipton.

The port of Hong Kong is the scene of the comedy-romance which details the love story of a young artist and a beautiful prostitute. Romi Yamada stars in the title role and Robert Carle plays the artist.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Please Don't Eat The Daisies (June 12-18) is adapted from the book of the same name by Jean being married to a famous theatre critic. Miss Kerr, in real life, is the wife of Walter Kerr, famous theatre critic. David Niven actor who is urbane and funny in almost anything he does. Doris

News Of The Theatres

Day is a little girl of 38 with blonde curls and freckles.

In this movie Doris Day pretends to be Jean Kerr, but we know she's Doris Day all the time, don't we? But that's all right, since this isn't exactly what you'd call a movie with a plot. It's more of a friendly romp with the Days and the Nivens and their four precious-cute-adorable little children. And Janice Paige, who is the had old sexy star who tries to seduce Daddy when he gives her a bad review. Aunt Janice isn't too bright.

Some of the sharp wit that made Mrs. Kerr's book more than forgettable Character I've Ever Met" is retained in the film. Niven is good and Miss Day is present and there are a lot of inside jokes for young married couples. The film is in CinemaScope and color.

Five Branded Women (June 19-21) is an excessively vivid expansion of the premise that Yugoslavian partisans and Nazi soldiers had a tough time making love to each other during World War II. The stars are Silvana Mangano, Van Heflin, Vera Miles, Barbara Bel Geddes, Jeanne Moreau, Richard Basehart, Harry Guardino, Steve Forrest and Alex Nicol.

It would be indelicate to detail the plot in a family newspaper, but the problem centers around the jealousies of the partisans when five of their countrywomen begin fraternizing with the German invaders. The ladies are shorn of their tresses (Note: This is a Symbol) and banished to the mountains, but they regain the friendship of their men when they agree to take part in guerrilla actions. After some weighty discussion as to whether Nazis are human beings or "heartless beasts," Guardino and Miss Miles are shot by their partisan comrades when they are discovered making love while on sentry duty. Miss Moreau has to shoot her lover for sundry emotional reasons, but the film has a happy ending as the partisans manage to kill a lot of Germans.

Perhaps the film's strongest argument against the horrors of war is a scene in which the five crew-cut women bathe nude while talking over their problems. Frightening sequence. Despite the script's juvenile attempt at aphrodisiac propaganda, the performances are remarkably strong and Miss Moreau is especially sensitive and appealing.

The Mountain Road (June 22-25) is the latest installment in the Playhouse's campaign to convince us that war is hell, and it does its job effectively, if at too great a length. James Stewart is excellent in his usual stylized way as the leader of a combat group which is doing demolition work to slow the advance of pursuing Japanese forces in northern China during World War II.

Along the way, Stewart is offered the services of a Chinese officer (Frank Silvera) and a feminine refugee (Lise Lu). He accepts the former gladly, and is obligated to tote Miss Lu along because of local politics. The harassed team moves slowly doing its work despite opposition from local citizens, who understandably have certain objections against the demolition of their villages, and various illnesses and untimely deaths. The brutalizing of Stewart's personality is shown up in his angry action against some marauding bandits, and his personal tragedy is his inability to establish a lasting relationship with Miss Lu under the terrific pressures of war.

The film is dull in several spots and the musical score is unsatisfactory, but the basic pathos of the situation and Stewart's competent performance give it a good deal of power. The technique of treating a cosmic theme in a very limited situation is explored with great success. Alfred Hayes

DADDY IN THE RED?

Thought for the Day. Better check up on the debit side of Daddy's ledger before you buy him anything red for Father's Day. If, however, there is plenty of black ink to give you the green light, buy him the magnificent red Viyella sport jacket at The English Shop. From the color, you might deduce that this is a blazer, but actually it's a bona fide jacket and very splendid indeed.

For just a touch of cheer, you might settle for a bright red rope belt or a belt braided with black and red. And now about vanilla slacks to wear with Viyella jacket?

Bermudas at The English Shop are red, too. Buy a pair in cotton and dacron poplin.

For conservatives, there are lined Madras Bermudas, or opulent rayon and silk blend in beige or champagne. Orlon and cotton have been blended in a dark mustard brown, or mustard olive. These shorts wash easily, by the way. The deep mustard shade appears again in Bermudas made of hopsacking.

If Daddy is young and giddy with a seashore summer ahead, buy him a pair of white Wamsutta cotton clam-diggers. (You can always cut them up later for sheets). These have a fine stroke of red, white and blue down the side of each leg.

If it looks like a hot summer in town, consider the new tropical worsted business suits in dark Glen plaids or solids of grey and dark blue. Don't be frightened by the plaid; it's very small and very dark, visible to the naked eye, but quite shy and reserved. There's an olive brown plaid, dark grey on even darker grey and an olive plaid with a reddish brown overcheck. Warm weather will seem less so in a basket-weave dacron and rayon, woven so fine that it looks almost like a standard weave.

Summer robes for men are dacron and cotton in grey-blue paisley, Madras, seersucker or imported cotton solids like brass, wine or grey-blue.

You can't see the pocket for the shirt in a Hathaway patterned sport shirt. (We know the man who matches plaids for Hathaway. His hobby is matching pennies.)

These shirts, made of Imperial long-staple Egyptian cotton, are almost as fine as batiste. One group features a very small design widely spaced on a cream ground. Another, the "Huntley," has one-inch squares of print. "Envoy" prints checks which are separated by solid color.

Coat for a Wagon

They used to make dusters to wear in the old-fashioned touring cars, and for a long time now they've been making stubby coats to wear in sports cars. So why not a coat to wear in a station wagon?

At Red Barn Casuals, you'll find a station wagon raincoat in the palest cafe au lait lined with fine black cotton with white polka dots. The coat has an unusual mandarin collar — unusual for a raincoat, that is — and ten-inch patch pockets which are attached to the coat only at the top of the pocket. There are gold ball buttons and a triangular scarf which is lined just like the coat.

We have no idea why this is called a station-wagon rain-coat. Customer at the Red Barn wearing one drove off in a four-door sedan. Seemed to kep her quite dry.

Aertex, the shirt with the open windows, comes in solids like blue, brass and a color called grape which looks to us like a kind of irridescent wine. Fermented, possibly.

Sipping Sodas? Up north on Route 206 where the Red Barn offers its casuels, you'll find a denim set the color of a raspberry soda. The skirt has an applique of ice-cream chairs with purple seats and a protective umbrella of purple, blue and yellow. The camisole top and Bermuda shorts are plain.

A sleeveless white sharkskin with V neck and unpressed pleats has a wide, square sailor collar which fans out over a navy blue buttonless cardigan. Navy and red flags break out here and there on white dress and blue jacket. There's a red belt.

Red Barn's summer favorite is a floral dotted Swiss which comes as a white sundress with tubs of blue flowers and blue shoestring straps, or green and olive print with puffed sleeve blouse and full separate skirt. This two-piecer is $29.98, the sundress is $17.98.

The Villager re-designs its classic round-collared shirtwaist in a dark country-store print with reproductions of antique labels row on row, like bottles in an apothecary shop. Haymaker designs for summer a sundress with two-inch straps, buttons to the waist and deep patch pockets. The fabric is an unusual light-weight cotton with stripes of soft blue, gold and rose overstitched against the white. A patio dress in mustard (spill your hot-dog and it won't show) has a red tie sash and red-lined pockets with gathered tops, like big feed bags.

To top your summer, buy an Arnel jersey shirt jin red, white and blue stripes, with a deep U neck and no sleeves at

THE GARDEN

The Greatest Show on Earth (June 13-18) is Cecil B. DeMille's 1952 attempt to prove that John Ringling North was a piker. The cast includes, among others, Betty Hutton, Cornel Wilde, Charlton Heston, Dorothy Lamour, Gloria Grahame, Henry Wilcoxon, James Stewart, Lawrence Tierney, Emmett Kelly and animals and animals and animals.

It's always merciful when dealing with circus pictures to avoid talking about the plot. Since we are in no mood to have our credentials as gentleman tampered with, suffice it to say that there is a fire, a sequence where the animals get loose, and a train wreck, during which a previously unassuming clown distinguishes himself for heroism. In addition, of course, there are interminable high wire acts and other hazardous activities. The film features six or eight songs, none of which you will remember even if you saw it in 1952.

In addition to the enormous number of principals, the cast includes troops of extras DeMilling all over the place. The picture is in Technicolor.

The Ten Commandments (June 20-22), another Cecil B. DeMille colossus, is newer (1957) than last week's "The Greatest Show on Earth" and therefore bigger. Filmed in VistaVision and color, the film, which had an interminable run at the Garden in 1958, is back at regular prices. The stars are still Charlton Heston, Yul Brynner, Anne Baxter, Yvonne De Carlo, Vincent Price, Cedric Hardwicke and Edward G. Robinson, and the emphasis, as someone has noted, is still on the Seventh Commandment.

Purportedly the life of Moses, the script gives evidence of having been compiled from the Bible (Classic Comics Edition), various playful historical accounts and an incomplete reading of "Lady Chatterley's Lover." Whatever spiritual significance the film might have had is overwhelmed by the 10,000 screaming extras and a couple of interpretive dances that make it clear what we're supposed to be against, but are less definite on what we're for. The excellence of Brynner's performance here is rivalled only by his portrayal in "Solomon and Sheba," in which triumph, upon discovering the lifeless body of his devoted lover, he intoned with all the grace of a Joey Bishop the two words which will live in the hearts of Biblical scholars: "Oh, no."

MRS. WADE HONORED

For Distinguished Teaching. Mrs. Mabel H. Wade, head of the French department at Miss Fine's School, is one of four New Jersey teachers to receive the second annual $1250 Princeton Prize for Distinguished Secondary School Teaching in the State of New Jersey. The awards are given by Princeton University from a fund established by an anonymous alumnus.

Mrs. Wade joined the faculty of Miss Fine's in 1927 and has taught French in grades nine through 12 for her entire tenure. For the past 16 years, she has served as faculty advisor to the junior class and to the student social service committee.

Last year, Mrs. Wade received a "Certificat d'Honneur" from the Concours National de Francais sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French because of the records made by her students in Association competitions. Four of the five American Field Service scholars from Miss Fine's were chosen to spend a year in France because of the fluency in French which they acquired in Mrs. Wade's classes.

Princeton University alumni, some 500 of whom were here last weekend for their annual class reunions, were told that the University's $53 million campaign has reached half of its goal.

Gifts and pledges to date total $26,328,257.30. The amount raised during the past 12 months is in excess of $16 million.

At the same time, it was announced that the Class of 1940 (to which President Robert F. Goheen belongs) has given the University $324,390. This represents $123,681 in class memorial insurance; $178,927 toward a dormitory to be completed this fall and named for the class; and $21,781 in additional gifts toward the $53 million program.

HE'll BE 95

Rocky Hill Doctor Celebrates. He retired from active medical practice at the age of 94 because his hearing began to fail. And he hasn't delivered a baby since shortly after his 93rd birthday.

He still reads medical journals, however, and keeps up with the world at large through magazines and television. This Friday, Dr. Malvern Reeve of Rocky Hill will celebrate his 95th birthday.

Born in Philadelphia on June 17, 1865, he came to Rocky Hill in 1901 to be near a fellow alumnus of Hahnman Medical College who was practicing in Jamesburg. In the 59 years since then, Dr. Reeve has delivered about 3,000 babies, bound up countless wounds sustained by workers in nearby quarries and nursed a variety of other ailments ranging from flu in 1918 to the common cold, any year.

"I used to leave my house around 6 a.m. with horse and wagon some days," Dr. Reeve recalls, "and not get back home until evening. The flu epidemic of 1918 was the worst time I can remember — I never want to see another epidemic like that one."

Quarry accidents once kept the doctor almost as busy as new babies. Dynemite used to cause three or four crippling accidents a day, he recalls, before the introduction of newer methods of quarrying.

Recipe for a long life? "I don't drink because I decided it didn't go with my business," he says, "but I do drink citrus juice and I spend every winter in Florida. I recommend both to anybody."

PLAN PROGRAM FOR TEENS

Both "Ys" Offer Summer Activities. An enlarged summer recreation program for teen-age boys and girls will be offered this summer by the YMCA and the YWCA under direction of Mrs. P. T. Bortell Jr., and Charles Hurford. The events have been planned for young people in the ninth through 12th grades. Enrollment will be limited to 50.

The program, which will open for eight weeks on June 27, will include classes in tennis, golf, ball-room dancing and bridge. An advanced art course will provide an opportunity to experiment with sculpture, woodworking, charcoal drawing, oil painting and the making of copper jewelry.

There will be trips to the Lambertville Music Circus, Yankee Stadium and Island Beach, and every Thursday evening there will be a "jazz night" when teen-agers will bring their instruments for an evening of improvising. Swim-dances will be held on Friday evenings and there will be a formal dance in July.

Help the Borough Grow!

Mayor Raymond F. Mule has asked for more help in the Borough's running controversy with the Bureau of the Census over the municipality's size. The request came at Tuesday meeting of Borough Council, where the reply to Council's request for a review of the court was read.

According to the letter, the Borough must supply completed census forms for all residents missed by the survey if it wishes to recoup on the reported decrease of 371 persons. Borough clerk Robert Mooney already has 24 of these forms from those missed in the census, and will fill out the forms for others who communicate with him.

Mayor Male observed that the Census officials do not seem to be seriously concerned about Princeton's population shrinkage—he quoted one letter which referred to the decrease as appearing to "nettle" the Borough. While the Mayor believes as many as 1000 or 1500 were missed in the count and hopes for at least 200 to 500 uncounted souls to report to Borough Hall, the Bureau of the Census sent only 50 forms.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH: A lot of things can change in 25 years and the biggest one in the opinion of 1935 grade Norman Gort and Ray Meadowcroft has been in the individual Princeton student. For other changes noted by those returning for their 25th reunion, see below. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: What do you feel is the biggest change in Princeton since you were an undergraduate 25 years ago?

Where asked: Holder Court, Class of 1935 Headquarters.

Carl "Pete" Dixon, Riverside, Conn., part owner of own company, chemical merchants: As far as our class is concerned, our waist-lines! I think the town of Princeton is far more beautiful today because of the beautification of Nassau Street caused by the addition of Palmer Square. The town also seems a little more prosperous and cleaner. As for the University, it's the same old Princeton with a few more buildings which have made it more attractive.

Philip Nelson, Greenville, N.C., M.D.: Maybe there is one but I'm not aware of any.

Norman Gort, Stamford, Conn., publicist: The biggest change that struck me is that the students are more serious, work harder and are huskier than they were 25 years ago.

Ray Meadowcroft, Chicago, mechanical engineer: From what I hear, the biggest change is that nowadays everybody has to be a brain to get in. In my day, you had a big variance in academic ability. Also, 25 years ago we had janitorial service. The boys have to clean their own rooms now and it sure looks it. They're all dirty, messy and run down.

Robert Ferrer, Villanova, Pa., lawyer: I think the biggest change is in the addition of new dormitories, a new gymnasium, and Firestone Library, and changes in the town of Princeton itself. In other words, the visible and physical have changed but the spirit's the same — still tops.

Abe Hoober, Lancaster, Pa., associated with Hemphill-Noyes & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange: I don't think my classmates have changed very much — I was amazed at that. The names had evaded me but the faces were familiar. I'd say I would have known 60-70 percent of them and I haven't seen any of them since 1940. Another outstanding thing on this occasion, I would say, is the unusually fine weather for New Jersey at this time of the year. That's definitely a change.

Bryce Schreiner, Pittsburgh, Pa., lawyer: So far as the visible campus goes, Palmer Square is one of the most obvious changes. That and the relocation of the University Store. Actually, I get back every five years, so these changes haven't struck me all in a heap. Of course, the undergraduates look younger all the time, but I'm sure they're a lot brighter.

William Lanning, Berkeley Avenue, Trenton, lawyer: I think the most startling change to me is in accommodations for the students. When we went to school there were two of us to a room. Now there are six to eight. This has forced a change in the whole mode of study. You can't expect six or eight guys to be able to study at one time. Now they expect the boys to study in their clubs, which is a revolution.

Arthur Stirling, Los Angeles, M.D.: The physical change, the modernization of the campus. I believe that the buildings are, for the most part, beautiful, but they haven't considered the landscaping aspect. It's beginning to feel "closed in," almost too compact, more jumbled together than it was 25 years ago. However, I think the spirit of the University is still here and the undergraduates we have met have been very friendly, very courteous and respectful.

William B. Geid, Philadelphia, attorney: I would say the most noticeable change has been the improvement in both buildings and facilities in dormitories, class buildings and libraries. It shows that the alumni have been devoted throughout the years in remembering Princeton.

Mac "Freechie" Macomb, Chicago, Ill., public relations for Inland Steel Co.: I'd say the addition of the Firestone Library without hesitation. I was delighted with the new University Store in which I spent a pleasant hour this morning, reuniting with sales personnel who had been there the four years I went to Princeton. Another big change that I have noticed is the difference in attitude toward women and children attending these reunions. Twenty-five years ago, they were absolutely taboo. Only a few ever came and you looked askance at those who did. They were considered a chain around one's neck. Today, wives and children are not only welcomed but there is a complete schedule and program of events for them. And they're all having the time of their lives. I think it's been a very pleasant change.

Dr. G. Ray Vilsack, Pittsburgh, Pa.: Well, I would say that the campus itself, from what I've seen, looks very much like it did 25 years ago except for the University Store. I did notice the new tennis courts down at the old freshman baseball field and thought them very attractive with the landscaping in between the courts. Looking down on them, it was very impressive. Otherwise, I've been coming back pretty regularly so I'm used to the changes going on in town.

Albert Durham, Los Angeles, customer relations for an investment house: The physical change of the campus. I even had trouble recognizing my old dormitory because of all the new buildings erected around it.

Report from THE MAYOR

"Tell It To The Mayor!": The regular weekly open house session will be held this Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

The Mayor has been pleased to hold the "Tell it to the Mayor!" sessions for each of the 128 weeks since taking office on January 1, 1958. Next week, however, and for a few weeks thereafter, the consecutive string will be broken.

The Mayor plans a holiday—a kind of busman's holiday—that will take him with his family by car on their first country-wide trip. Along the way, we will be attending the annual Governors' Conference, held this year in Glacier National Park, Mont.

We then plan to drive on to Los Angeles to participate in the important national convention scheduled there for the week of July 11. Enroute, we hope to see a number of towns where solutions have been found or new ideas tried to meet some of our common problems in local government.

Reports to Continue: The Mayor will continue to file the customary weekly report; for there are many items that have been crowded out of these brief weekly summaries that need fuller reporting: items, for example, in connection with the major questions being studied by our planning board in connection with the many months of work with our consultant planners. It is important to keep the public informed of major problems affecting the future of Princeton.

Lester Acting Mayor: Borough Council President Richard A. Lester will become Acting Mayor on Wednesday, June 22. When he leaves to serve as a delegate at the Los Angeles Convention, the senior "at home" member of Borough Council will be in charge.

Toward UN Week: The Mayors of Princeton and Trenton met on Friday morning with representatives of the New Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations. Each Mayor hopes to name a chairman for UN activities and to work toward the special events of UN Week in October. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to speak in Trenton on October 23 and it is hoped that Trenton and Princeton may be able to organize local AAUN chapters before that date.

Training Conference Here: Princeton continues to grow as an attractive conference and training center. From June 19 through June 24, an important group of officials of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare will be in session at the Nassau Inn. The Mayor will not only welcome them but is honored to be one of the conference "faculty", handling the Monday session on the role of the public administrator.

On The Calendar: In addition to the important agenda session of Borough Council, the Mayor's calendar last week included: a welcome to Coast Guard Admiral Perkins and other officers of that important service here to participate in the "graduation" of 32 students in Mrs. Molly Airey's class in "boatmanship"; attendance at the annual YMCA dinner meeting where Larman Sherwood, a blind and courageous lecturer, gave an inspiring address; and, in a pinch-hitting role for U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, the Mayor addressed the annual meeting of the N. J. Municipal Welfare Employees Association in Asbury Park on migrant labor.

ADVERTISING VOLUME is based on results. That's why TOWN TOPICS carries more classified advertising each week in the year than all other Princeton papers combined

ail. If you want more cover-up, wear the gold medallion print shirt cut long enough to cover bathing suit or short-shorts.

Silver Bells and Cockle Shells, D. Van Nostrand, the publishing house that operates behind the door at 120 Alexander Street, is known for its technical and scientific publications. D.V.N. also puts out books that anybody can read and to prove the point, has been promoting its collection of 43 garden books, all written by experts and all displayed at the International Flower Show held in New York earlier this spring.

These volumes are now on view at the Princeton Public Library, from which they may be borrowed, and on sale at various bookstores. They may also be ordered by mail from 120 Alexander.

Titles in the collection will appeal to all kinds of gardeners. There's Dr. Cynthia Westcott's, "Anyone Can Grow Roses" (oh, you think so, do you, Dr. Westcott? Well, these aphids came along one day . . .). And "Old Roses for Modern Gardens," by Richard Thomson and Helen van Pelt Wilson, and "Burrage on Vegetables." (We prefer Hollandaise, but to each her own).

"Your Lawn — How to Make it and Keep It," by the seed expert, Dr. Milton Carleton, "The Azalea Book," by Frederic P. Lee, "Gardening in a Small Greenhouse" by Mary Noble, "Wild-Flower Gardening," — the list is all-encompassing.

Norman Taylor, who wrote the wild-flower gardening book, has a series: "Color in the Garden," "Fragrance in the Garden," "Herbs in the Garden" and so on. You may be interested in "Pools, Waterlilies and Goldfish" by G. L. Thomas Jr., or "1001 African Violet Questions Answered."

Dr. Cynthia Westcott has "Garden Enemies" — (there! what did we tell you about those roses? Dr. Westcott writes a book called "Anyone Can Grow Roses" and then she comes along with a book called "Garden Enemies." Guess she found out!) And Laurence Manning writes "The How and Why of Better Gardening," which ought to answer everybody's questions.

ASK LIQUOR LICENSE

In Township. Roger Yard and Arthur Yard, owners of The Rug Mart and Ivy Manor, have applied to Township Committee for a package store liquor license, based on the census figures which show an increase of 4,913 in Township population.

The application is more or less a formality, according to Township Clerk Joseph Nini, because a Township ordinance passed in May, 1939, limits both package liquor stores and bars to the present number: six consumption licenses and one retail.

According to the new census figures, Township Committee could issue four more consumption and two more retail licenses. Committee would have to amend the ordinance to do so, however, and in any case must await final census figures.

The Yard brothers hope to operate their "Nassau Package Store" at 53 State Road in premises owned by Harold Pearson.

SUPERVISOR NAMED

At Cook & Company. William H. Karch of Blawenburg has been appointed supervisor of management of Edmund Cook & Company, real estate agents. Mr. Karch will be in charge of the management of 20 Nassau Street, the Cook building at 190 Nassau and the other houses and buildings managed by the real estate concern.

A graduate of Princeton High School with the class of 1946, Mr. Karch holds a B.S. degree from Rutgers. He has been a partner in a roofing business and has also done road construction and paving. He is a member of Princeton Lodge No. 38, F & AM, Crescent Temple, and Princeton Shrine Club. He is an honorary member of Mercer Engine Company No. 3.

HOME SERVICE OPENED

By J. J. Daetwyler. The opening of Nassau Renovation Service, a comprehensive home remodeling and alteration service, has been announced by J. J. Daetwyler, a builder here for over 20 years. Any home alteration, from the installation of bookshelves to the building of an addition, will be handled by the new organization.

Mr. Daetwyler will also handle office and commercial remodeling on a small or large scale.

SUPERVISOR FOR COOK: William H. Karch will supervise various properties managed by Edmund Cook & Co.

The construction firm bearing his name built many houses on Mountain Avenue, Jefferson and Valley Roads and Moore Street, among others. He has been associated with Better Homes and Gardens for many years, and most recently worked as a construction engineer for the Texas Oil Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Daetwyler live at 185 Harrison Street. Their son will be a senior at Princeton High School this fall.

STRIKE ENDS

At General Devices. The five-week-old strike at General Devices in Monmouth Junction was settled last week when representatives of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers signed a two-year contract calling for a 32 cent hourly package in the first year and 7½ cents the second year.

Across-the-board pay increases will amount to 10 cents an hour the first year and 7 cents the second year. The union had asked for severance pay and pension provisions but these were not granted.

The Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce had asked Governor Robert B. Meyner to intervene in the strike, which involved 109 production workers at the electronics plant. The early days of the strike were marked by violence and charges by the company of "mass picketing." Company president John F. Brinster, 271 Mercer Road was charged by the union with atrocious assault and battery with an automobile.

General Devices obtained a show-cause order to force the union to explain why a court order restricting illegal picketing should not be issued. Both cases have been postponed. The strike was settled before Governor Meyner issued a statement.

FITTING FINISH

As University Field Era Ends, Frank Merriwell, the legendary hero who had a knack for winning athletic contests with heroic feats performed at the 11th hour, was enrolled by his creator at Yale. In the minds of Princetonians who watched Saturday's uphill 7-3 victory over the Eli nine, it was pleasurebly ironic that the Frank Merriwell touch was provided by the Orange and Black.

The setting had all the basic components of melodrama. In the last game to be played on University Field (scheduled to give way this summer to the new engineering quadrangle), the visiting Yales had forged ahead for the second time. As Princeton stepped to the plate in the last of the eighth, the Bulldogs were enjoying a 3-2 advantage.

Ken Murray singled to center. Paul Finch was hit, and when the Eli infield misplayed Elmer Naples' pop bunt into a scratch hit, the bases were filled with none away. Olin West, a reserve infielder who had appeared infrequently in a late-inning role, was Eddie Donovan's choice to pinch hit for second baseman Bill Karjane.

The 6-2 junior hit the first pitch 380 feet to dead center, the ball trickling off the out-stretched glove of the hard-running Yale fielder for a triple. Three runs cascaded across the plate, and the Tigers were in front to stay.

Alumni Son Wins. There was another fitting touch to the game in that the winning pitcher, Wally Phillips, was the son of a member of the class of 1935, which was celebrating the 25th anniversary of its graduation from college. Phillips came in to replace starter Deve Douglas in the top of the eighth with none out and the bases loaded.

One run crossed on an error, without which he would have retired the Elis in scoreless fashion. In the ninth, three quick ground balls ended the contest.

Myslik Named Captain. Bob Myslik, a dependable, sharp-fielding third baseman, has been elected to captain the 1961 baseball team. Against Yale last week, he drove in one run, scored two others and made an unassisted double play that snuffed out the Elis' eighth inning rally.

The Clark Trophy for general proficiency in baseball went to hard-hitting Bill MacMillen, who has caught, played short and this year held down first base. The Coach's Trophy for the best showing by a sophomore went to shortstop Jack Whitehouse, who collected four hits and a sacrifice in five trips to the plate Saturday to cap a fine season.

ROWING CLASSIC SATURDAY

Ippolito, Sachs Honored

The Roper Trophy, established in memory of Princeton's football coach of the post-World War I era, was given jointly this week to Mike Ippolito and Don Sachs. The award presented to the two seniors is the highest the University annually confers upon an athlete.

Ippolito is one of the most versatile football and baseball players ever to represent Princeton, playing three backfield positions and five for the Tiger nine. He pitched, covered first and held down every spot in the outfield. Captain of the ball team, he also received the Kafer Baseball Trophy for outstanding contributions to the sport.

Sachs, whose career was curtailed by injuries on frequent occasions, was a starting member of the football and lacrosse teams and played some basketball. An All-Ivy selection in football as a sophomore, he had his greatest day when he scored three touchdowns and passed for a fourth as the Tigers took the Ivy title against Dartmouth on a snow-covered gridiron.

HARRY ZOLL
PHS Baseball Coach

"The good teams win the close ones," so a sports axiom goes, and it might be added that "the teams that win the close ones invariably are well coached." Certainly that applied to the Princeton High School baseball team, which last week completed a highly-successful season with a second straight extra-inning victory that brought the first Central Jersey Group III title in PHS history.

Although he deprecates the part a coach plays in building a winning team, those close to baseball at Princeton High can tell you that Harry Zoll has been pointing for the 1960 season for three years. Some of the top players on this spring's standout team have been with Zoll since he first took over the varsity coaching job four years ago. Most others made the squad as sophomores; by 1960 (after pitcher Jack Lackey won seven games the previous year and evidence of good balance could be clearly seen), it was apparent that something big lay ahead for the Blue and White.

Dedication to a sport is essential to success. His key players had it, and so does Harry Zoll ("Baseball has been a steady diet with me ever since I can remember.") A pitcher in his college days at Ursinus, he coached high school ball at Cape May and Flemington before coming here in 1947 to teach chemistry. The freshmen at PHS were his responsibility before he took over at the varsity level from Morrill Shepard.

After compiling a highly-respectable 10-4 season's record, including a spectacular 14-4 trouncing of a strong Trenton High aggregation, the Little Tigers began play in the Central Jersey Tournament. North Hunterdon was an easy 8-0 victim, but it required come-from-behind rallies to trim Sayreville and South River, both among the best Group III teams in this section of the state. The kind of poise and confidence a veteran team needs to record such triumphs must, in large degree, be traceable directly to the man who is responsible for his performance on the field.

"I'm really going to hate to see these guys go," Zoll says of his 1960 champions. "I almost feel as if I'd raised them."

are the respective choices in the preliminary events.

In addition to the four favorites, Navy is rated a stronger entry than the Tigers, so that any finish better than sixth by the Orange and Black will be a distinct upset. The field will be rounded out by Brown, Wisconsin, Columbia, Dartmouth, Rutgers, M.I.T. and Syracuse.

PHS EDGES SOUTH RIVER
To Capture Group III Crown.

Princeton High School's baseball team won the Central Jersey Group III championship by beating South River, 4-3, in 10 innings Friday on the Peddie School diamond. It was the first time that PHS had been invited by the NJSIAA to participate in the tournament.

In attaining the coveted title, the Little Tigers first had to conquer North Hunterdon Regional and Sayreville High Schools. They shut out Hunterdon, 8-0, May 28 at Harris Field behind the one-hit pitching of Jack Lackey. The following Thursday at Peddie, Sayreville was a 2-1, 10-inning victim of Lackey's 14 strikeouts and the batting of Archie Freeman and Dick Olsen, who collected six hits, two more than the losers' entire output.

Friday's championship game was another cliff-hanger. It pitted Lackey against Andy Dustal, each of whom had won seven and lost one. When South River scored an unearned run in the top of the tenth on a throwing error by Jack Hawkins, it appeared that Lackey's brilliant 4-hit, 16 strikeout effort would go for nought.

But, the Little Tigers, their backs to the wall as on numerous occasions throughout the season,

Onondaga, and will end the 1959-60 season at Princeton. There is a possibility that the Tigers will compete in the Olympic tryouts to be held on the same body of water early next month.

Four crews, two eastern and two from the Pacific Coast, have been installed as favorites in the race, Cornell, which won the Eastern sprint championship, and Penn, which later trimmed the Ithacans over the two-mile distance, are the choices from this section of the country.

Washington and California, generally among the leaders in the national picture, are strong again this year. They have traded victories this spring, with Washington winning the longer race.

Thirty-four crews will row in the colorful regatta, ten in the freshman event and 11 in the jayvee affair. The Navy plebes and the Cornell junior varsity refused to become rattled. After Boyd Bergen had flied out, Ray Cranstoun singled for his third hit and Hawkins chipped in with his second. Both advanced when Dustal uncorked a wild pitch. Lackey's sacrifice fly then scored Cranstoun with the tying run and leftfielder Alan Wood followed with a single to send Hawkins home for the victory and the championship.

South River scored two in the first inning and Dustal managed to blank the Blue and White until the sixth when it tallied twice to tie the score. Bergen scored PHS's first run, coming home on Hawkins' triple after he had been hit by a pitched ball. Lackey then knotted the score with a sacrifice fly to set the stage for the dramatic 10th inning.

TIGERS WIN WORLD SERIES

Top Giants in Midget League. The Nassau Oil Tigers won two close games to defeat the Princeton Municipal Improvement Giants in the YMCA Midget League World Series. Managed by John Donaldson, the Tigers collected two runs in the last of the ninth in each game to win, 2-1 and 4-3.

Colie Donaldson of the Tigers and Tommy Callighan of the Giants hurled eight scoreless innings apiece in the first game. John Scheide's homer in the top of the ninth might have won it for the Giants, but the Tigers came back with a walk, a double by Craig Donaldson and a triple by Terry Davidson for the tying and winning runs.

With the score again tied going into the final inning of the second game, Brad Blaisdell drove in what looked like the winning run for the Giants. Again the Tigers retaliated, as Vincent Saats slammed a home run with one man on base.

TENNIS TOURNEYS SET

YMCA to Sponsor This Year. The annual summer tennis tournament will be sponsored by the YMCA this year, instead of the Playgrounds Committee which has run the event in the past. Richard Swinnerton, freshman tennis coach at Princeton University, will direct the tournament for the second straight year.

As before the eight-division tournament will start with boys and girls singles for 15-year-olds and under. Entries will be taken at the YMCA office on Avalon Place or at the Church Courts bulletin board, closing Saturday. Play will begin Monday and proceed through the week from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

Succeeding sections will include the Junior Boys and Junior Girls singles (for those 18 and under), beginning June 27; Women's Singles, beginning July 5; Men's Singles, beginning July 11; Mixed Adult Doubles, beginning July 18; and Men's Doubles, beginning July 25. In each case, entries will be posted the week before and close on the Saturday before the opening date.

Tournament entry fees will be nominal, to cover the cost of trophies, with Juniors and under supplying a can of new tennis balls apiece. Information about the tournament may be obtained from the YMCA or Mr. Swinnerton.

PAC to Open Tuesday

The Princeton Athletic Club will play its first games in the Tri-County Baseball League next week, facing Montgomery Township on the latter team's new diamond Tuesday in a twi-light contest. On Thursday at 6:15, the Hightstown-Cranbury entry will play the PAC nine on the high school's Harris Field.

South Brunswick Township is the fourth member of the league, whose commissioner is B.E. Bergesen Jr. Steve Hogarty, a sophomore at Notre Dame and former Princeton High School player, will manage the Princeton Athletic Club this season.

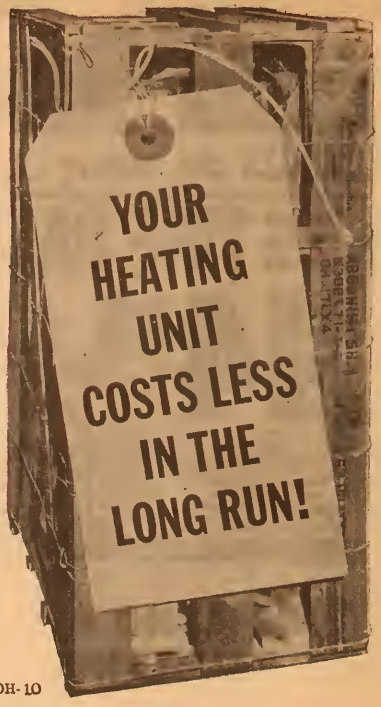
MOVE UP TO 1960's OILHEAT AND DISCOVER



OH-10

Many people think the cost of a heating unit is right on the price tag!

Nothing could be farther from the truth!

1960's OILHEAT equipment may be higher in initial price than some other types of home heating systems. BUT — and it's a BIG BUT — the savings in lower fuel bills soon catch up with the difference in price. Result: In five years, or less, you've made up the difference . . . and from then on you get a yearly dividend in savings.

So don't be fooled by the price tag on heating equipment. The real bargain will prove to be the 1960 OILHEAT system that may carry a higher price tag . . . but costs less in the long run.

Ask your New Jersey fuel dealer for the facts and figures. He will be glad to apply them to your specific situation.

DIRECTORY PUBLISHED

By Plainsboro Church. The senior high school young people's group of the First Presbyterian Church of Plainsboro is distributing a special telephone directory for residents of the Plainsboro (SWinburne) dial area. The young people hope to receive contributions to support a two-week "Go and See" Christian education-mission tour.

Distribution is now under way in Grovers Mill, Princeton Junction and Dutch Neck, Plainsboro Township will be covered after July 1.

Recipients of the directories will be invited to contribute to a fund which will be used to pay for the group's tour of church colleges, theological seminaries and mission stations. The tour, which will go as far west as Yellowstone National Park, will include studies of the ministries in industry, national parks and the inner city church.

KAHNY HITS PERFECTION

Faces 21 Batters, Harry Kahny, standout hurler in the Men's Softball League, pitched a perfect seven-inning game last Thursday as he retired 21 batters in a row. The feat enabled the league-leading Sportsmen to defeat Sannino's, 5 to 0.

The victors were held to four hits by Lou De Meglio but eight errors by the losers made the going easy. Clusters of two runs each in the first and second rounds were followed by a singleton in the sixth to account for all the scoring.

A second triumph Tuesday (7-2 over Leo's Rural Service) added to the Sportsmen's widening lead. Green Gables, idle because of its cancelled game with the Chemical Workers and then through a postponement Tuesday, took over second place. The winless Chemical Workers, beset by the problem of plant shifts, have dropped out of the league.

In other action, Teague's blanked Plainsboro, 4-0, and Leo's came from behind to trim Circle Esso, 5-2. Plainsboro and Circle Esso battled to a 3-3 tie Tuesday which will have to be replayed. For a list of games scheduled during the next five days, see Calendar of the Week, page 14.

OUR SLAVE GIRL HAS RUN AWAY

At least, her husband has been transferred, and she chooses to follow him. She really loved us, and it was a hard decision. Thus, we must again put out our call.

SLAVE GIRL WANTED

Must either have independent income or small appetite, because the starting pay is grossly inadequate for support. We need a secretary, office manager, and girl Friday, all wrapped up in one. Typing and dictation are the most important of the many duties and details which will be dumped in your lap. We are a new company and therefore not rolling in the green stuff as yet, but as the money starts rolling your meager pay check will be raised accordingly. Starting pittance $50 per week, with a guaranteed raise every three months for the first year, but after that time I'm sure you will have the filing so confused as to be indispensable and can demand your own living wage. A Complete Home For $9950??

"It can't be done" . . .

"Not in Mercer County, anyway."

"What is it — — — a Doghouse!" . . .

We're used to this kind of comment at The Building Center and frankly with the current high cost of building in this area we don't blame people for doubting that it can be done.

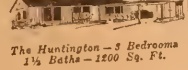
Here's how these $9950.00 - $20,000.00 "Emblem" Homes can be built.

FIRST—IS DESIGN. These homes (like the Compact 1960 cars) utilize every inch of space very efficiently. Plumbing and heating layouts are concentrated, waste hall space is at a minimum and big closets give you storage where you need it.

SECOND—IS CONSTRUCTION. Use of component parts like Pre-finished Long Bell Kitchen Cabinets, Anderson Strut Wall Window Units and pre-assembled storage walls speed up and simplify construction.

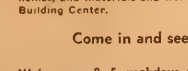
THIRD—IS MATERIALS. By careful specification of materials best suited for a certain type and size of house we hold down the cost of all building materials and equipment.

FOURTH—IS D.I.Y. ("DO-IT-YOURSELF"). Buying your own plot, doing your own painting, seeding, are jobs that are easy to do yourself—and you save plenty of money.

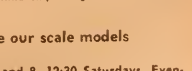


The Bel Hoven — 3 Bedrooms
1 Bath — 904 Sq. Ft.

The Greenbriar — 4 Bedrooms
1½ Baths — 1280 Sq. Ft.



The Huntington — 3 Bedrooms
1½ Baths — 1200 Sq. Ft.



The Madison — 3 Bedrooms
1 Bath — 936 Sq. Ft.

LOCAL CONTRACTORS AND SUBCONTRACTORS build these homes, and materials and workmanship are guaranteed by The Building Center.
